strongh, but rather, like Wordsworth, to be taken up as apritual sedative and the whirl and excitement of sonlemporary speculation. He does not reveal a theory, but *zers an ethereal influence both quieting and elevating. And it may be added by some that for a long time to come the absence of any definite theory will be no real objection. "Agnosticism" in respect of philosophy is the only reasonable state of mind. There is no such thing as a coherent metaphysical theory. The only difference is that the contradictions and incoherences are sometimes concentrated in a single assumption, and sometimes dispersed through every part of the system. In either case, to have a system is to be wrong; and it may be better boldly to do without and to be content with the series of brilliant flashes of insight which do duty for a philosophy with Emerson, and have only that coherence which arises from a uniform ethical elevation, and therefore, instead of teaching definite lessons, help to time the mind to the preservation of a calm and tolerant and yet high minded way of taking things in general.—[Pail Mail Gazette.

THE FIRE RECORD.

RAILROAD PROPERTY DESTROYED.

A SHOP OF THE PENNSYLVANIA ROAD BURNED-THE LOSS $400,000.

A fire which destroyed a large amount of property broke out about 6:30 o'clock last evening in the Pennsylvania Rasiroad Company's shops in the meadows, near the Hackensack River. The fire was discovered by John Murphy, a workman, in the rear of the paint shop. He saw the flames bursting up through the roof and gave an alarm. but before anything could be done to check the ues they had spread through the entire building. The rapid spread of the fire material in the shops. There were water-butts in different parts of the building, but they could not be made available in time to be of any service. Assistance was telephoned for to Jersey City, but by some mistake the message was sent to Police Headquarters instead of Fire Headquarters, causing considerable delay. When word did reach Fire Headquarters, Chief Engineer Farrier sent engines Nos. 7, 9 and 11, and trucks Nos. 3 and 5 to Marion Station, where they were put on a train and taken to the scene of the conflagration. By the time they reached there the entire building was nearly destroyed and the firemen turned their attention to saving the shops, which they succeeded in doing.

The destroyed building was of brick, one story high, and its dimensions were 175 by 400 feet. It contained the paint shop, upholstery department and cabinet shop. The property destroyed consists of the building, estimated to be worth $50,000; fwo Pullman cars, worth $52,000; eighteen passenger coaches of East-lake pattern, which coast $8,000 each; two loca-motives, worth $24,000; three express cars estimated at $5,000 each; six tenders, worth $12,000, and materials worth about $100,000, including paint, tools, triamings, etc. The total loss will not fail far short off $400,000, on which there is no insur-

There were 400 men employed in the shops, and the majority of them will be thrown out of work temporarily. All the property destroyed belonged to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, except one locomotive, which is owned by the New-York, West Shore and Buffalo Railroad, and the two Pollman cars. The fire is supposed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion, as there were no fires in the building. It was nearly 11 o'clock when the flames were got under control.

DAMAGE IN BROADWAY.

Flames were discovered last night on the top floor of the five-story iron-front building No. 392 Broadway, but they were extinguished very quickly by the firemon. Bacon & Eaton, manufacturers of umbrellas, lost $3,000 by the fire and the building was damaged about $1,000. Water caused a loss of $500 in the lower part of the building, occupied by Harvey & Ford, dealers in canes and comes. All the losses were covered by insurance. The origin of the fire was not known.

PECULIAR ACTION OF SPECIAL AGENTS. To the Editor of The Tribune.

SIR: The acquittal of Examiner Cocheu, following that of Examiner Thorne, directs attention to the irremediable injustice done two officers of the customs who were guilty of no crime. Messrs. Thorne and Cochen, by the testimony given on their trials, stood well before the community, and enjoyed the confidence of their superior officers. Nine or ten months ago they were arrested upon the affidavits of Special Agents Adams and Brackett, charging them with the commis sion of various felonies and crimes. These crimes, with others more or less vaguely hinted or stated, were made matters of public accusation from week to week by the special agents, and were set forth by them in the press as the gravest crimes, which were susceptible of the most positive greaf. After being thus maligned and suspended from office for almost one year, a trial is at length had, one of them—tocheu—being acquitted without the jury leaving their scale.

Is there any remode for when it appears that there is no evidence against them,

Is there any remedy for this injustice systematized? There was no ground for accusing these efficers of any crime in the first instance. There was no case against them or evidence with which to construct a case. Special Agent Brackett need not be accused either of ignorance or malice, and was not guilty of both in carrying forward these prosecutions. There was nothing more harmful about the huminess than matter. at the business than politics. ## THE WEEK IN SOCIETY.

GAY GATHERINGS IN AND OUT OF DOORS. MUSICAL RECEPTIONS - MAY WEDDINGS - GARDEN

AND TENNIS PARTIES-THE COACHING CLUB. Many of the gatherings of last week had music as a basis. The presence of that well-known amateur, Mr. Robin, accounted for some of them. A large company greeted him at the house of Mrs. Edward Matthews on Friday evening. There were several soloists besides, giving a good idea of the American musical culture of this period. Mrs. William A. Bodd and also on the same evening some good music. Her reception, in both afterneon and evening, was given in bonor of Madame Bonnefon and Madame de Réal, French friends just arrived.

On Thursday occurred the wedding of Mr. Randolph Hurry and Miss Condit. Trinity Chapel was filled with friends to greet the young lawyer and his bride. There were five bride maids, dressed in different colorspleasing innovation.

Mrs. J. W. Haven gave a ladies' lunch in honor of Mrs. Ellison, of Boston, on Thursday, Mrs. Eilis, Mrs. Jessup, Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Mrs. Sherwood and Miss Furniss were among the guests.

The week saw many garden parties in the suburbs, one of the most agreeable being given by Mrs. J. P. one of the most agreeable being given by Mrs. J. P.

advanced to make these affairs delightful. The redbird is all the sweeter when it comes. All the country seems to resolve itself into the Elysian Fields, and the seventythree divinities devote themselves to spring, and to spring only.

One of the best private concerts of the week was at the house of Mrs. Ann S. Mrs. Kuox and Mrs. Brown also sang the "Mocking Bird." Mrs. Stephens's parlors were well filled, Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Dickerson, Mr. Erastus Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. John Sherwood, Mr. and Mrs. D. The Meadow Brook races took out a number of fashionable people yesterday, and they had a fine day for their enjoyment. The racing was good.

On Monday evening the Misses Farniss will give a mustcale to Mr. and Mrs. Robin, who will soon sail for Paris. On Thursday the Brooklyn Bridge will be the scene of festivity. The President will be here and will dine with Mr. Seth Low. The architect of the Bridge, Colonel Roebling, and Mrs. Roebling have invited many Brooklyn, after the ceremonies are over.

Mr. and Mrs. James Brown Potter are home from the Hot Springs, and Mr. Potter is much improved in health. On Saturday evening a number of ladies and gentlemen met at Mrs. Burton Harrison's to talk over the Art Loan Exhibition, which is to take place early in the autumu for the benefit of the Pedestal Fund. Mrs. William Kingsland will head the Ladies' Committee on Lace, Miss Furniss that on Miniatures, Mrs. Sherwood the Fan Committee, Mrs. Harrison that on Costumes and Old Jeweiry, and Mrs. Brayton Ives that on Japanese Curios. A committee on Modern China was formed, and there was a deal of discussion as to the place of exhibition. Mr. Eastman Johnson declines the active presidency. It is understood that Mr. F. D. Millet will presidency. It is understood that Mr. F. D. Miget will be in general charge. This enterprise will give ladies much to de during the summer months. They will have time to find out who has the best lace and the finest col-lection of recoco jewelry. The history of the fan, as poetically described by Dr. Holmes, will be in order. The rich treasures of old Durch jewelry unlocked by the Kermess will also come to the fore. The artists and sculpters promise a full display of their wares, and alfogether the Art Loan Exhibition of 1883 ought to rival that of 1876. Old portraits, old sliver, everything, even if ugly, all that will illustrate the progress of the arts, might well be offered for classification.

There are few things as pretty as a country wedding at this season, such as that of Mr Boote and Miss Shepard at Orange, N. J. "THE PRINCESS"-A QUESTION OF THANKS. To the Editor of the Tribune.

SIR: Seeing in various papers the Committee of the Statue of Liberty most unjustly accused of having over-thanked Mrs. James B. As Mrs. Potter suggested that the Pedestal Fund be the object of the work, as she inspired the Ladies' Committee to take it up, and as to her zeal, ability and patriotism the whole movement owed its inception and successful completion, the Ladies' Committee asked for an especial vote of thanks to her, in which, had they been asked, her fellow and freindly amateurs would no doubt have joined. # THE CANVASS AT THE UNION CLUB.

The canvass at the Union Club preparatory to the approaching annual election becomes more lively and exciting as the time for preparation grows shorter The present indications are that there will be a large vote and a great deal of scratching, and the counting will necessarily be so tedious that the result cannot be known until the day after the election. nunated discussion regarding candidates for the presidency of the club is already in progress. The members who have been mentioned for the place are Edwards Pierrepont, John J. Townsend, C. C. Baldwin and Her man Le Roy. Mr. Townsend displays a great deal of strength. He presided at the special meeting last June and showed so much ability as a presiding officer that a great many members are disposed to think that hi firm and decisive way of dealing with questions might possibly bring order out of questions might possibly bring order out of chaos. Mr. Baldwin has much popularity among his fellow-members, and, the opinion is expressed that he would make a strong run for the place against the opposition which now seems probable. Mr. Le Roy appears to have less strength than the other candidates mentioned, and it is probable that his friends will not urge his candidacy any farther than they have done. There is much discussion in the club regarding Mr. Le Roy's report. One of the first remarks made was that it does not appear in the accounts that either Mr. Robinson or sir. Carter has been paid anything for legal services last winter in the club's behalf.

UNIVERSITY CLUB AFFAIRS.

The annual meeting of the University Club was held last night. An unusually large number of members were present, as several important amendments to the constitution were to be voted upor It has been felt for a time by some of members that a decided step ought to be taken in regard to the club building. By some it is thought that the present premises at Fifth-ave, and Thirty-fifth st. should be purchased by the club, while others cay that it would be better to move further up town and erect a new club-house which would give increased accommodation and be more generally fitted to club uses. The amendments proposed had a bearing on the question and frequent references were made by the various speakers throughout the evening to the subject; but no direct question was raised. It appears that the general feeling of the club is to purchase the present building. The surplus funds already amount to over $75,000. ready amount to ever $75,000.

The first amendment increased the entrance fee from $100 to $200 for resident members. There was very little discussion ever this, and it was adopted unanimously. Some exception was taken to the next amendments.

ment proposed, which was due to the more personal application it had to the members present. It was intended to raise the annual dues to $60 in the case of resident members. After some discussion it was a proved by a majority of those present. When the case of resident members. After some discussion it was a proved by a majority of those present. When the third and last amendment was read out there were hot and vigorous arguments. The more conservative members finally gained a victory and succeeded in throwing out what seemed to them an olonoxious and revolutionary proposition. It was to the effect that a man could be elected a member of the club when he had been out of college three years; at present the time is five vears. Concerning honorary degrees no change was proposed. It was the manifest opinion that, although this amendment would undoubtedly result in increasing the club funds, those admitted under the new conditions would be too young as general thing. The amendment was accordingly rejected by a fair majority.

The business consisted in electing five members of the Council to serve for four years, in place of Charles F. Chandler, George Hoffman, Henry Holt, Brayton Ives and William C. Whitney, and seven members of the Committee on Admissions to serve for three years, in the places of T. Frank Brownell, Joseph P. Earle, Loyall Farragut, N. H. Feller, Cecil C. Higguns, Sherman W. Knerals and John W. Simpson. An unusual amount of scratching took place, and it was about midnight when the count was begun.

As an exhibition of fine playing by Vignaux the game was well worth secing, but as a contest it possessed not the slightest interest, and many of the spectators tired of it and left the hall before it had concluded. There were not many vacant sears at the evening game between Jacob Schaefer and William Sexton. Moreover, on the game depended to a great extent the result of the tournament, for the defeat of Schaefer would still leave both Vignaux and Sexton a chance of winning the first prize. Hetting was 4 to 1 on Schaefer. Schaefer won the lead and chose the spot ball. He missed the first shot. Sexton made 3. Schaefer again missed. While Sexton counted 18. Many of them were extremely difficult shots and the way Sexton made them showed that he was in the best form. Still a third miss for Schaefer, sexton, on the contrary, followed with a good run. Colonel Vaughau, commander of the Newport Artiflery Com-Vaughan, commander of the Newport Artiflery Company, has stated that Mr. Farrow is a member of that organization in good standing, and is now on furlough. This fact Mr. Farrow's friends are using to intimate that other considerations than the one given influenced the directors lotted rectors, both on the technical ground and because he thinks that in spite of the well-known skill of Mr. Farrow he would not make as strong a team-man as some other rifleman of less individual excellence. Mr. Farrow was a member of the last international small-bore team that shot against the Irish team at bollymount in 1880 and has an international reputation as a rifleman.

THINKING HE WAS POISONED.

A well-dressed man, who appeared to be ill and excited, went to Police Headquarters last night and told Captain Steers that he feared he had taken poison. He showed several boxes of powders which he said had been prescribed for him by a physician. Captain Steers thought at first that the man was a lunatic, and he sent for Police Surgeon Dorn. Before the surgeon arrived, however, the man began to feel better. He said he was John Boud Lonsdale, of Carlisle, Eugland. He arrived in this city on the steamship Bairce on Tuesday, and was staying at the St. Nicholas Hotel. By advice of Capitain Steers he went back to the botel. At minispit the cleras at the hotel said that Mr. Lonsdale had gone to bed.

RAILWAY NEWS.

SOLVENCY OF THE JERSEY CENTRAL. THE PROPERTY TO BE RESTORED TO THE COMPANY ON CERTAIN CONDITIONS.

On the favorable report of the special master, appointed by him to inquire as to the solvency of the Central Railway of New-Jersey, Chancellor Runyon, of New-Jersey, yesterday signed a decree restoring the property to the company when certain conditions shall be complied with. It is under-stood that the principal condition relates to the liquidation of the floating debt, which the master found to b about $2,062,000. The decree provides that the company shall resume possession of the road upon depositing with the Court satisfactory security for the payment of this indebtedness within three months. The Chancello consents to the proposed lease to the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, subject to liens for the receivership debts. In addition to the specific security which the decree requires, the bonds and stocks now held in the treasury of the Jersey Central are to remain in the receiver's hands until after the payment of the indebtedness. The decree will be filed to-morrow or Tuesday, and the security required by it will be given to the receiver, it is said, soon afterwards. No meeting of the stockholders of the company had been called yesterday. At their general meeting on May 11 they recommended the proposed lease of the road to the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad. The managers of this company had previously approved it.

Receiver Little, of the Jersey Central, declined to make public the Chancellor's decree, which he had just received. He said that it would not be published until after it had been filed with the Court. He stated the general purport of the order, however. In reply to the inquiry whether, in his opinion, the required security would be furnished, he said: "I have no doubt that inquiry whether, in his opinion, the required security would be furnished, he said: "I have no doubt that it will be, and I am informed that the amount of the receiver's debt will be paid long before the expiration of the 90 days. If it should not be paid! Well, I shall not only have that security, but the stocks and bonds at present held by me, which amount to about $5,000,000. It was the Chancellor's aim in making the order to avoid, if possible, every danger of the property again falling into a receiver's hands. I could sell the securities, I suppose, and pay the indebtedness from the proceeds; they would be much more than sufficient."

Another officer of the company remarked: "Oh, yes, the debt will be paid within the time specified in the order. The lease of this road is considered very important by the Gowen-Garrett party, which would not have straiggled so hard for the control if it could not have straiggled so hard for the control if it could not have raised the two millions necessary to disasoive the receivership. Why, if Mr. Gowen cannot raise the money, "President Gowen, of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, said of the Chancellor's decree: "It is emineatly satisfactory to me and the security is ready now. The Court will not keep it long, however, for the indebtences will be paid almost immediately. There will be no delay in the matter."

In reply to the inquiry whether the stockholders of the company had ratified the lease of the Jersey Central Mr. Gowen said: "That is not at all necessary in our case, for the managers have absolute power in such matters. At the annual meetings we usually submit our nests for approval, but it is hardly more than a formality then.

PEDITCING, TIME ON THE ERIP.

REDUCING TIME ON THE ERIE. The New-York, Lake Erie and Western Railroad will put into effect to-morrow a new time-table which makes many important changes from the old schedule. The present St. Louis fast express will run through to that city without change, and the time will be shortened between New-York and Ruffalo thirti-five minutes. The Pacific express will leave New-York one four later, at 8 p. m., and to secommodate the baggage and express matter belonging to it an extra train will be run. The emigrant train will also star an hour later, at 8.15 p. m. MR. VANDERBILT'S RECENT PURCHASE. Wiiliam H. Vanderbilt was a large stocknolder in the Pittsburg and Lake Eric Railroad before the recent purchase of 12,000 shares, which was first made public yesterday. He now holds a controlling inmade public yesterday. He now holds a controlling in-terest in the road. The price paid for the recently uc-quired stock is said to have been considerably less than the amount given in the published dispatch, but the precise terms could not be learned. By the control of precise terms could not be learned. By the control of this road Mr. Vanderbilt secures a line from Astabula, on the Lake Shore road, to Pittsburg. When the new road from Harrisburg to Pittsburg shall have been built, be will have a direct connection between the Lake Shore and the Philadelphia and Realing roads. His recent purchase was made for this purpose.

THE WAR AGAINST THE LACKAWANNA. BUFFALO, May 19 .- The contest between the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad and the pool lines causes serious embarrassment to emigrants and passengers arriving here on the former road on their way West, as that line at present has no connection with taking care of its passengers or by aiding them in making connections. So far the New York, Lake Eric and taking care of its passengers or by adding them in masing connections. So far the New York, Lake Eric and Western has taken emigrants arriving by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western to Suspension Bridge to connect with the trand Trunk. This arrangement, however, is soon to be stopped. Emigrants arriving here by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western are subject to serious delays and transfers across this city, besides running the risk of losing connection with the Western lines. Judging from the reports current it is doubtful if the New-York, Lake Eric and Western will take any more of the emigrants from the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western. If this be true the emigrants by that road will have no outlet from Builalo.

MISCELLANEOUS INTELLIGENCE. CHICAGO, May 19 .- The report that the differences between the East bound trunk lines and the Board of Trade had been settled by the return of the representatives of the railroads to the Board is incor-MONTREAL, Que., May 19.-William Cassils, ex president of the Canada Central Railway, has been appointed receiver of the St. Lawrence and Ottawa Railway Company. New-Haven, Conn., May 18 .- About fifty of the 3,500 stockholders of the New-York, New-Haven and Hartford Railread to-day voted to bond the main line for $5,000.

000, the money to be used at different times in improving the road, the stockholders to be given the preference in the disposal of the bonds. THE PUBLIC ADMINISTRATOR'S WORK.

Among the many officials employed in the execution of the laws of this city, there is probably no one whose position is so important and at the same time so little understood as that of Public Administrator. "I have been surprised," said Algernon S. Sullivan, the present incumbent, to a Tribuna reporter recently, "to find so many business men, who are absolutely ignorant the team who are to shoot the return international rifle of the existence of such an officer as the match with the British Volunteers at Wimbledon in Public Administrator. And yet there is not a July. Nominally the ground of his rejection was that he had not complied with the regulations requiring him New-York provide that whenever any person owning property here dies intestate, his goods, chattels, persona tate and debts shall be piaced in the hands of an official called the Public Administrator. To this end keepers of hotels and lodging-houses report to him the names of persons dying in their houses, coroners the names of strangers on whom they hold inquests, and undertakers the names of those whom they bury. Failure to comply with these regu lations is made punishable by fine or imprisonment.

When the Administrator has been invested with the necessary authority for the settlement of an estate of this character, he at once publishes a notice calling upon all persons having claims against such estate to present them for settlement. If at the expiration of a year the next of kin have not been found and there are no other herrs, the money left after the expenses of administration have been deducted is deposited in the city treasury. Here it remains, the city having the privilege of its use without interest, until a claimant appears. The fees for settling an estate, as regulated by law, are 5 per cent on all sums below $2,500, and 219 per cent on all amount above it. As the Public Administrator receives a salary, he deposits all fees with the City Treasurer. Although the expenses of this office are nearly $0,000 a year, yet I have earned more than this amount for the city in fees for services rendered as Administrator. From 1875, when I assumed the duties of this office, to 1822, the expenditures were $61,942 97 and the receipts $71,003 87, so you see that the city made a clear profit of $10,000,"

"How many cases do you have on an average each year!" asked the reporter.

"Between one and two hundred, I should think," re plied Mr. Sullivan. "You would perhaps be interes to learn that most of the persons who die intestate are to learn that most of the persons who distinctions working men and women who have deposited their carnings in savings banks. The amounts vary from a few dollars up to several thousand. The majority, however, are quite small—so small that it almost seems unnecessary to go through the form of administering. The cost of advertising, fees, etc., sometimes reduces the amount to a mere pittance."

"What is the largest estate you have been called upon to administer?"

"The largest estate that I have administered since I became Public Administrator was that of Theodore Gentil, formerly well-known banker, who died in 1882. Mr. Gentil was a shrewd business man and by judicious investments succeeded in amassing a fortune. He occupied a prominent position in society and was a hale fellow well met among all his club associates. He finally went to Paris, where he lived a gay life. He spent his money with a lavish hand and extracted from the intoxicating whirl of Parisian society all the pleasure it contained. Last year he died intestate, leaving property valued at $217,936.98 in the hands of iselin & Co., of this city. As there there could be found no one who was next of kin and no claimants appeared to demand the property, the Public Administrator at Paris endeavored to secure the estate for his own city. The courts, however, decided that the property should revert to the Public Administrator here, since it was invested in New-York. In the mean time there appeared in a city of a province in France persons who claimed to be cousins of Mr. Gentil, and they instituted proceedings to recover the money. I engaged counsel, and after the claims had been investigated and proven to be legal the matter was adjudicated. By a decree of the Surrogate's Court I paid over to the attorney of the claimant has full sum after deducting expenses."

"Are many of the estates paid over to relatives or other claimants I"
"No; the mest of them are finally deposited with the Treasurer of the city. Occasionally, after an interval of soveral years, claimants have appeared and received the money, left perhaps by a very distant relative."

LIGHTING THE ELECTRIC LAMPS-A PROCLAMATION BY MAYOR EDSON-ORDERS TO THE BROOKLYN POLICE.

sparkled into an arch of giant gems last night. Sixty-four electric lamps of the United States Electric Lighting Company were lit at nearly midnight, and with few exceptions they burned steadily till daybreak. The lights are of 2,000candle power. In addition to those on the bridge span there will be six on the approaches at each end and also one at each end of 2,300-candle power. The lighting up last night was in the nature of an experiment and it was pronounced a suc-cess by the officers and several of the trustees of the company who visited the bridge. The current was supplied from the station of the company in Elm-st. This connection is only temporary, the permanent station for the Bridge lights being in Brooklyn, not far from the Bridge lights being in Brooklyn, not far from the end of the structure. The plant at the Brooklyn station consists at two Corliss engines of fifty-horse power each, and four dynamos capable of running twenty lights each. The Brooklyn station was not used for the experiment because the company has not yet got steam there. The view of the Bridge from the river was especially beautiful, the numerous lights, seen at a distance, almost fusing into a curved line of brilliant splendor.

Inyor Edson yesterlay issued the following proclamation in reference to the opening of the Bridge:

Hayor Edson vester hy issued the following pro-clamation in reference to the opening of the Bridge:

To the Citizass of New-York:

The East River Bridge, on setting by a grand high-way the edies of New-York and Brooklyn, is so far com-pleted that the frustees have appointed the afternoon of May 21 as the time to hold appropriate eccumonies to commemorate the event of its opening to public use. This event marks an epoet in the history of the two cities, which, if not now rally recognized and appreciated by our citizens, existed fail of appreciation the years to come. The structure in itself is a marvel of engineering skill and a testing monament to the energy, zeal and patience especially of those who have imme-diately engaged in its construction. It should be a source of pride, as it will be a source of vast and mained benefit to the people of the cities which it so grandly Joins together. In order that the completion of this great public work may be suitably commemorated, I recommend that the citizens of New-York suspend bosiness at mid-day on the day named for its de lication, and join with the citizens of Brooklyn in the Joyous celebration of the event. The order in which the celebration is to be conducted in this city, as well as in Brooklyn, will be fully amounced in the newspapers on or before the day appointed, and I carnestly request all citizens to assist in carrying our suca arrangements in a suitable and orderly manner.

Superintendent Campbell, of Brocklyn, yesterday issued orders regulating the police service on the day of the opening of the Bridge. No cars will run in Sands-st., between Fulton and Washington sts., and that space is to be kept clear during the day. Those holding tekets to the Bridge will be required to show them before entering the fines. The Bridge will be closed to the public at 6.550 p. m. The police will then march to the middle of the Bridge, meet the New-York police, and begin clearing the structure for the display of fireworks. Serreant John Johnson, commanding the mounted squad, will parade his command for escort duty and accompaning the party of invited guests from the Mayor's house to the Academy in the evening. A double cordon of police will be formed from the stage entrance of the Academy to the main exit in Montague-st. to envent crowding and keep in continuous motion it eline of citizens participating, in the reception, which will be at 9:30 p. m.

After the close of the ceremonies at the Bridge, the Mayor, the President, the Governor, and other invited guests will proceed to the Mayor's house at Coumbin Heights. After dining with the Mayor the party will proceed to the Academy of Music. People without tickets are asked to approach the Academy irom Clinton-st. Which they will reach from the direction of Pierrepont-st. or through Montague-st. from the west, enter the Academy by the main entrance, and pass out at the side entrance, and leave Montague-st, by way of Court-st. Holders of tickets to the galleries will approach from Clinton-st. from the direction of Reinser-st. and enter the Academy through the Art Building.

The Union Ferry Company anticipates some trouble in getting its bents across the river during the night of the Bridge opening. Four beats will run on the Fulton Ferry line and two a
